ON Monday the licensed sale, at Edmonton, of intoxicants began. The licensees are the Alberta, Canada and Jasper hotels. H. B. Co., Norris & Carey and B. McLeod, wholesale licensees.

Calgary Tribune: Mr. Tossier, a Dakota settler, who passed through last Thursday of last week, on his way to Edmonton, was taken ill on the way, died on Sunday, and was buried on Monday. His family still remain in Dakota.

D. R. FRASER, of Fraser & Co., returned from a business visit to Vancouver, B. C., on Thursday's train of last week. He was just a week away from Edmonton. Fraser was in there in Vancouver and the weather was rainy. He has arranged for a supply of British Columbia lumber, which will be carried in stock by his firm.

THE country from Calgary north to Red Deer was covered with snow on Monday last, the result of the previous Tuesday's snow fall. The weather had been very cold and stormy. North of Battle river to Edmonton there was no snow.

COLIN FRASER arrived from Peace river on Tuesday. He left Peace river near the mouth of the Smoky on April 6th. The ground was still covered with snow, except the faces of the hills, which were bare. Slave lake was still solid when he passed.

Two surveyors, E. M. Hubbell and Jas. Gibbons, arrived from Ottawa on Monday's train, to act under instructions of the land agent here in assisting to locate settlers. They are the advance of two parties which are coming to survey in the Beaver Hills and east of Beaver lake.

THE department of inland revenue has directed that after the first of May, 1892, goods subject to excise may be removed in bond for the following places in the Northwest Territories: Calgary, Lethbridge, Macleod, Regina, Prince Albert, Moosomin, Edmonton and Medicine Hat and also Donald, B. C. As there will be some delay in executing the necessary papers for licenses goods may be shipped during the month of May only, in advance of the usual notice from the department of the granting of bonding warehouse licenses.

A SAMPLE of butter made at the Big Hill Springs creamery, at Cochrane, west of Calgary, presented by Jas. McDonald to the BULLETIN, shows plainly the advantage of the creamery over the dairy system. As good butter can be, and sometimes is, made in a farmer's dairy, but the uniformity of good quality which is the special feature of the creamery cannot be attained in the dairy, for reasons which every butter maker understands. It is the uniformity of quality which sells the creamery butter over the best sample of dairy. The sample spoken of was done up in thin paper wrapper. It exactly resembled a bar of soap, and could be handled as easily.

EDMONTON.

Is splendidly situated on the North bank of the far famed Saskatchewan—one of the most beautiful rivers in the world—It is practically the head of steamboat navigation on the river and is the terminus of the Calgary & Edmonton branch of the C.P.R. It is the centre of the finest grain growing, stock raising and dairying district in Canada. It is the seat of the lumbering industry on the Saskatchewan and is in the centre of and underlaid by the most extensive coal deposits in the known world. The gold washings of the Saskatchewan extend for eighty miles above and below Edmonton. It is the only gateway to the Peace, Athabasca and Mackenzie river regions, which cover nearly one-fourth of the area of Canada. The trade of that vast region—at present the greatest fur producing territory in the world, but with wide areas of agricultural lands on Peace river; the greatest petroleum deposit in the known world on the Athabasca, valuable forests on the Liard, fisheries in its chain of lakes second only to those of the St. Lawrence, and vast deposits of salt, sulphur, copper and iron as well—is handled by and through Edmonton. As the development of the Northwest contributes to the growth of Winnipeg the development of this still greater region must contribute to the growth of Edmonton. The Dominion Lands, Timber and Registry offices for the district of Northern Alberta—nearly as large as the province of Manitoba—are located here. The supreme court holds sittings and the sheriff and clerk of the judicial district reside and have their offices here. The postoffice is a money order office. The government telegraph line from Qu'Appelle and the C. P. R. telegraph line connect here. The town has an excellent telephone service, and an efficient electric light service. The Imperial bank has a branch here. There is a large grist and saw mill at Edmonton, and two saw-mills operated up the river have their yards here. The best brick in the Northwest is made in Edmonton. There are four coal mines within the town limits. There are four churches and two large schools, public and separate, having an attendance of over 150 pupils. Population is increasing rapidly and building operations are brisk, having never ceased since the completion of the railway in August 1891. The town was incorporated in January 1892, and is free from debt.

LAND SALE.

The auction sale of C. P. R. lands in the Edmonton district on Tuesday afternoon and evening last in Field's Hall was well attended although the number of eastern buyers was not as large as had been expected. L. A. Hamilton, land commissioner of the C. P. R. managed the sale, and was assisted by Mr. Dowker, land examiner. J. G. Fitzgerald of Calgary was the auctioneer. The land put up included the odd sections in all the townships around Edmonton, but owing to previous settlement and other causes there was none to offer in the townships immediately north and northeast of town. The bidding began about two p. m., was continued until 6, was resumed at 8, and was closed about 10 p. m. In the early part of the afternoon the bidding was most spirited, land south and east of the railway station being in most favor. Most of the land within five miles of the station went between $4 and $5 an acre, but some choice pieces went at $5.50 and $5.60, the latter being the highest price realized. This was the only section in which there seemed to be any tendency to approach speculation. In other sections the purchases were chiefly by resident farmers. Southwest of the station $3.40 was the highest. North of the Sturgeon and in rear of St. Albert prices ranged about the same. The sale was conducted squarely throughout and was strictly without reserve, beyond the upset price. No larger parcel than 160 acres was put up at once, so that residents desiring to purchase C. P. R. lands had every opportunity of doing so. In all 11,200 acres were sold, at an average price of about $4 an acre, or $45,000 in all. The lowest price was $3.10 and the highest $5.60. It was announced during the sale that another sale would be held in July.

TOWN COUNCIL.

At the council meeting last night, the site offered by Ross Bros. for a fire hall was accepted at $500. The lot has 50 feet front on Fraser Avenue and is immediately in rear of the H. B. Co. store. Notice was given by the finance committee of a by-law to raise $25,000 for permanent improvements such as fire appliances, sidewalks, grading, ditching, fire hall and site, market site and expropriation of lands. A petition was received for the opening and improvement of Namayo Avenue between river lots 10 and 12, the expense to be met by a frontage tax. The account for the expenses of the delegation to Ottawa was submitted and ordered to be paid. The amount was $600. The question of the expropriation of certain lands was discussed and it was decided to make the following offers: Jas. McDonald $25; Messrs. Fortin & Rayner $750; L. Kelly $850; Brown & Curry $150. Full report next week.

SCHOOLS REPORT.

The report of the board of education for the Northwest Territories, from September 10th 1890 to September 2nd 1891, is to hand. It is a more bulky volume than any previous report, and contains information bearing upon the practical working of the schools and cost of the same, never before published. The report shows 210 public schools, 34 Roman Catholic schools and 10 Roman Catholic separate schools. There were 145 all year and 102 summer schools. Teachers holding provisional certificates were paid from $20 to $50 a month; holding third class certificates, from $25 to $36 a month; holding second class certificates, from $32 to $75 a month; holding first class certificates, from $35 to $125 a month. A report of each school inspected is given, in most cases showing the amount of assessable property in the district, the rate of assessment and the amount of taxes collected, number of days the school was open, number of pupils on roll, teacher's salary, subjects taught, date of inspection and inspector's report. For the first time since the school system of the Northwest was organized, the public are in a position to judge of the actual working of the system on its financial side. The report shows the absolute necessity of taking the steps which have been taken to equalize the aid granted according to the services to be rendered. As long as the proportion of the government aid was 50 per cent, or under, that, in itself, was a sufficient check on districts paying salaries out of proportion to the services rendered; but when the proportion of government aid is over 50 per cent, as at present, the check on disproportionate salaries is lessened accordingly; and it was evidently high time for the government to step in with some system of equalizing the school aid.

THE STORM.

The Free Press reports the storm of Wednesday afternoon and night, April 27th, an old time blizzard of the rarest kind in Manitoba. The wind was from 60 to 90 miles an hour, telegraph, telephone and electric light poles were blown down in the city and thirty miles of the poles along the C. P. R. line from Winnipeg to Brandon were blown down. A window of the city hall was blown in. The weather was not very cold until near morning, and the snow fall was not very great. West of Winnipeg passengers were not allowed to move from one car to another for fear of being blown off the platform. At Boissevain rain fell until Tuesday at 4 o'clock, and then the most severe snow storm ever known in the district began and continued until 11 o'clock at night. Twelve inches of snow fell. Geo. E. Lundy, of Lundyville, Man., was lost in the storm, going from the railway station at Reaburn, Man., to the hotel, about 600 yards. His body was found next morning. Just compare this weather with that felt at Edmonton during the same period. Don't forget that that storm did not visit Edmonton, and don't forget that such storms don't visit Edmonton. Freedom from severe storms in either summer or winter is a distinguishing feature of the Edmonton district.

Macleod Gazette: Alberta does not often undergo the experience of a genuine blizzard, but the storm which raged from early Monday morning until late Tuesday night cannot be described by any milder term. Old residents can remember nothing like it at this season of the year. For the time specified, the storm raged with unabated fury. An immense quantity of snow fell, driven by a gale of wind from the northwest, piled into huge drifts in all directions. Buildings only a few yards distant could not be seen. It was next to impossible to find one's way about, and business was practically suspended for the two days that the storm lasted. Yesterday morning Macleod looked like some town in the Arctic regions. On the north side of the main street the snow was piled up fully seven feet high, and almost all the houses were surrounded by drifts through which it was impossible to force one's way.

The following advertisement appears in the Winnipeg Tribune: "Edmonton. The prospects of the town on the south side of the Saskatchewan river are daily improving. Hundreds of people are arriving every week. Investors should remember that the Calgary & Edmonton railway terminus is on the south side of the river, and that all shipments by rail must go through this town. Plans of townsite and full information on application to OSLER, HAMMOND & NANTON, 351 Main street, Winnipeg."

Chief engineer Osler, who has been locating the extension of the "Soo" road to a point 25 miles south of Regina, says the road will join the main line at or between Regina and Moose Jaw, and will be running this fall.

A German gentleman, from Waterloo, Ont., tells the Winnipeg Free Press that there is a large immigration from Waterloo to Iowa and Kansas.

In the Dominion bye-election in Welland, Ont., Louis, Liberal, was elected by 250 majority over Lauson, conservative.

LICENSES.

The board of commissioners for license district No. 8 met on Tuesday, May 3rd, in J. McDonald's real estate office. All members present. The applications of J. McDonald, South Edmonton, A. W. Carey, Red Deer for hotel licenses and of D. McLeod, Edmonton, for a transfer of wholesale license to another building were considered. That of J. McDonald was refused on the ground that the number of licenses already granted in that vicinity were sufficient for public requirements. That of A. W. Carey was held over to be granted if he completes his building and his bonds. That of D. McLeod was granted; the transfer being from the building now occupied by the p.l.c.e. as barracks, to a new building adjoining Mr. Field's boarding-house.

FOR SALE.

That property well known as
NORRIS' RANCHE,
beautifully situated on the Black Mud River, about 15 miles from the rising town of Edmonton, one mile east of the line of the C. & E. Railway, and four miles from Leduc Station.
This property is comprised of well of sections 18 and 20 and N.E. quarter of section 7, in Township 50, Range 24. It takes in the big Hay swamp on the Black Mud, on which 500 tons of hay can be cut. The Black Mud Lake is about 1 mile from the Ranche. There is a never failing well right at the house.
Any amount of wood, soil good, country rolling, and quite suitable for farming as ranching.
About 160 head of cattle (cows and young stock), also 25 good Cayuse mares, all on the Ranch will be sold with the Ranch or separately.
All information required can be had by addressing the undersigned, who will also give satisfactory reasons for wishing to sell.
